

Natural Gas Extraction

and

How to Protect Your Private Water Supply

Education is the best strategy—and the best short course for homeowners is Gas Well Drilling and Private Water Supplies, developed by Penn State Extension water resources specialists. It's all on a single CD.

The two-part course covers the basics of gas well drilling, illustrates how drilling can impact private wells, and offers strategies that homeowners can use to protect their water supply.

- Research-based information from University experts
- Easy-to-understand content; photo story format
- Interactive feature that lets the viewer communicate questions to an extension specialist
- Self-paced learning; approximately two hours total viewing time
- Compatible with PC formats

Beginning on October 1, 2008, the CD will be available for $10 from the county extension educators listed on the reverse side of this flyer. Order now!
